

AS and A Level Drama and Theatre

PROVISIONAL

Qualification Fact Sheet

What does the new specification offer?

OCR AS and A Level Drama and Theatre specifications take a contemporary approach to studying the subject. It builds on the GCSE specification, giving students opportunities to develop key skills in performance of their chosen skill, in the creative and rehearsal process and in analysing and evaluating a range of theatrical texts.

Students can choose a route through the course and will be assessed as either a performer or as a designer in the non-exam components. The designer options of lighting; sound; set; costume have their own marking criteria and specification requirements, ensuring students are well supported in taking these options and are credited for the skills needed for their chosen discipline. Designers will create artefacts of their design ideas and demonstrate their skills in a live performance.

In both the AS and the A Level qualifications there is 60% non-exam assessment and 40% exam assessment. Both qualifications require students to study, explore and interpret performance texts to support their understanding and knowledge, and to aid them in demonstrating their analytical and evaluative skills.

During the AS qualification students will study three performance texts:

- One full text (chosen by the centre) for the 'Process to performance' component.
- Two further extracts from texts, from a set list to fit a thematic title. These are explored practically throughout the course and students are assessed in the final exam assessment.

During the full A Level qualification students will study five performance texts:

- One full text (chosen by the centre) for 'Exploring and performing texts' component.
- A second full text (chosen from a selection of eight set texts) which is studied in depth during the course and tested during the 'Deconstructing texts for performance' exam assessment.
- An extract from a text, chosen by the centre, to support student understanding for the 'Practitioners in Practice' devised performance.
- Two further extracts from texts, from a set list to fit a thematic title. These are explored practically throughout the course and students are assessed in the exam assessment.

What to expect in the non-exam assessments (60% of qualification)

Process to Performance (AS Level) 120 marks
Students will produce a performance based on a text chosen by the centre, which will assess their chosen theatrical skill (performance or design.) Students produce an accompanying research report and portfolio with evidence of the process, including the influence of a practitioner they have studied.

Practitioners in Practice (A Level) 120 marks	Exploring and Performing Texts (A Level) 60 marks for A Level
Students will create their own devised performance based on and influenced by the work of others. This must include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The study of two centre chosen practitioners; • The study/exploration of an extract from a relevant supporting text (chosen by the centre); In addition to the performance, students will be marked on an accompanying research report and portfolio with evidence of the process.	Students will produce a performance based on a text chosen by the centre, which will assess their chosen theatrical skill (performance or design.) Students will be required to produce an accompanying concept document which outlines their intentions for the performance.

What to expect in the exam assessment (40% of qualification)

The exam component(s) will be assessed at the end of the course. The Paper A exams are 2 hours 15 minutes each and the Paper B exam is 1 hour and 45 minutes.

Paper A: Exploring/Analysing Performance AS: 80 marks (40%), A Level: 60 marks (20%)	Paper B: Deconstructing Texts for Performance 60 marks (A Level only 20%)
Students will be assessed on their knowledge and understanding and their ability to analyse and evaluate. Section A: Students explore practically using extracts from two different texts from a set list based on a chosen theme given by the exam board. Section B: This section asks the students to review a performance they have seen on their course. They will be assessed on their ability to analyse and evaluate.	This component requires students to study a set text in detail. The paper will contain questions about directorial decisions for the text and assesses students' knowledge and understanding of how drama and theatre is created and developed for performance.

How is the qualification marked?

There are 200 marks available for the AS qualification and 300 marks available for the A Level.

AO1: Create and develop ideas to communicate meaning as part of the theatre making process, making connections between dramatic theory and practice.

AO3: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of how drama and theatre is developed and performed.

AO2: Apply theatrical skills to realise artistic intentions in live performance.

AO4: Analyse and evaluate their own work and the work of others.

We'd like to know your view on the resources we produce. By clicking on the 'Like' or 'Dislike' button you can help us to ensure that our resources work for you. When the email template pops up please add additional comments if you wish and then just click 'Send'. Thank you.

If you do not currently offer this OCR qualification but would like to do so, please complete the Expression of Interest Form which can be found here: www.ocr.org.uk/expression-of-interest

OCR Resources: the small print

OCR's resources are provided to support the teaching of OCR specifications, but in no way constitute an endorsed teaching method that is required by the Board and the decision to use them lies with the individual teacher. Whilst every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of the content, OCR cannot be held responsible for any errors or omissions within these resources. We update our resources on a regular basis, so please check the OCR website to ensure you have the most up to date version.

© OCR 2015 - This resource may be freely copied and distributed, as long as the OCR logo and this message remain intact and OCR is acknowledged as the originator of this work.

OCR acknowledges the use of the following content: Thumbs up and down icons: alexwhite/Shutterstock.com, Young woman reading a script on stage: bikeriderlondon/Shutterstock.com, Venetian masks: HTeam/Shutterstock.com

Please get in touch if you want to discuss the accessibility of resources we offer to support delivery of our qualifications: resources.feedback@ocr.org.uk

